Dear friends & colleagues,

The time has come, we have now opened registration: Conference tickets are available here!

Cancer prevention research and its implementation is a global task. Through our conference series on cancer prevention, we aim to increase the visibility of cancer prevention research at all levels, from foundational studies to real-world implementation, and to promote greater awareness of its vital role.

4th International Conference on Cancer Prevention
28-30 October, 2024

in Heidelberg and via live stream

The International Conference on Cancer Prevention is a flagship event series hosted by the National Cancer Prevention Center \(NCPC\), a strategic partnership between the German Cancer Research Center (DKFZ) and the German Cancer Aid. This initiative is in line with the German National Decade against Cancer and serves as a concerted effort to highlight the importance of cancer prevention research.

Program

Experience the highlights of our conference, featuring two keynote lectures, diverse networking formats, and engaging poster sessions - come gather with fellow prevention experts!

Check out our program at a glance and confirmed speakers on the conference website, where you can now also find the conference poster available for download - you are welcome to print it out to hang up in your research department.
